“I’m excited to start and feel much more confident about looking for work.”

GARY JONES – SMBC

Employment

My period of unemployment began unexpectedly following surgery for a health condition that affected my lower legs.

The recovery process was lengthy and had a significant impact on my ability to return to work.

When I felt ready to re-enter the workforce, I encountered several challenges. My CV was outdated, I lacked confidence in using online job search tools, and I was unfamiliar with modern recruitment practices.

Despite being eager to work, I struggled to make much progress on my own.

Meeting with an Employment Advisor at SWEDA was a turning point.

I was referred to SWEDA by my local Jobcentre Plus after being out of work for two years. Prior to this, I had over a decade of consistent experience in warehouse and manufacturing roles.

They listened carefully and helped me identify the support I needed. Together, we:

Set up an action plan

- Developed a new CV that highlighted my experience and strengths
- Created job search accounts and provided training on how to use them effectively, enabling me to apply for suitable roles.
- Received guidance on interpreting job descriptions and matching them to my skills.
- Engaged in intense one-to-one job search support.
- Obtained assistance with interview preparation and online onboarding after receiving a job offer

My digital skills have improved significantly, and I am now able to search and apply for jobs online independently.

Thanks to SWEDA’s support, I have now secured a full-time warehouse position close to home. I feel confident and prepared to start this new chapter.

Securing employment has lifted a huge weight off my shoulders. I feel more motivated, optimistic about the future, and equipped with the skills to manage job applications and online processes should I need to in the future.

My experience demonstrates the value of tailored support. SWEDA helped me overcome the barriers I faced and achieve my goal of returning to work.

“SWEDA’s support made all the difference”

Employment

After working consistently for more than 35 years, I found myself unemployed for eight months, It was a huge shock.

I applied for jobs daily but rarely heard back, and when I did get interviews, I wasn't successful. My confidence dropped, and I felt stuck, unsure what I was doing wrong.

During a routine appointment at my local Jobcentre, I expressed my frustration and the difficulties I was facing, my work coach then informed me of the services that SWEDA provided and the help that they could provide.

I was referred to SWEDA for support by my work coach this is where I was introduced to the Employment Advisor Neil. We discussed in length the support that I required this included a CV, he explained that my CV needed to be tailored to each specific job role I was targeting.

He also identified that I needed help building my digital skills, using email effectively, searching for jobs online, and navigating job sites. SWEDA provided practical, structured support that rebuilt my confidence step by step, we formed an action plan.

We started by tailoring my CV to the roles I wanted, highlighting my relevant strengths and experience.

I scheduled one-to-one job-search coaching sessions, including role matching and a more focused approach to applications.

Gave application support, helping me complete forms and strengthen personal statements.

Scheduled mock interviews, this included tailored questions to fit jobs I was applying for, gave constructive feedback that helped me prepare and perform better.

I attended weekly Digital Skills sessions, helping me become confident and independent using email, job boards, and online tools.

SWEDA's support made an immediate difference. I became more confident about my abilities and clearer about how to present my experience. I learned how to use digital tools independently and approached interviews with solid preparation and much less anxiety.

Through all the help and support I received, I secured a job interview, where I was able to put all the tools I had learnt into practice.

I was delight after to received confirmation that I successfully secured full-time employment, and I would be starting my new role on 1 December.

SWEDA supported me through the entire onboarding process, which made the transition back into work smooth and stress-free, ensuring a smooth start in my new role

“I feel much more confident now using online platforms and applying for jobs. The support I’ve received has helped me understand how to take the next steps to return to work and focus on retail roles that suit my skills.”

-Laura Wojek

Employment

After being out of work for a long time, I was determined to return to the workforce and rebuild my confidence. My goal was clear: to secure a role in retail where I could use my previous experience and learn new skills.

I live in West Bromwich and wanted opportunities in the local area.

I have a varied background in retail, administration, and childcare, with experience in stock control, customer service, and business administration.

I also hold qualifications in Customer Service, Business Admin, Childcare, and Food Hygiene. Despite this, being unemployed for an extended period affected my confidence and made job searching feel overwhelming.

My main challenges were:

- Feeling unsure about contacting employers after so long out of work.
- Limited experience applying for jobs online and using digital platforms.
- Needing to update my CV and tailor applications for retail roles.
- Uncertainty about how to present transferable skills from admin and childcare.
- Improving IT and online communication skills to strengthen my employability.

At first, I lacked confidence in searching for jobs online and completing applications independently. I didn’t know how to highlight my skills effectively, and my digital skills slowed me down.

I was given one-to-one employability support that made a huge difference. Together, we worked on:

Developing a professional CV tailored for retail roles.

Learning how to use online platforms like Indeed to search, filter, and apply for jobs.

Uploading CVs and managing email communication with employers.
Building confidence in tailoring applications and showcasing transferable skills.

Improving my digital skills so I could apply for roles independently.

PROJECT

Employment - Cont

Through guided sessions, I practised using job boards, completing applications accurately, and managing follow-up emails.

Each application was reviewed with me, which helped me understand how to tailor my CV and cover letters.

I gained confidence in my abilities and learned how to highlight my experience in retail, admin, and childcare.

I now feel more independent in my job search and comfortable using digital tools. My CV reflects my strengths, and I'm actively applying for retail roles with confidence.

This support transformed my approach to job searching. I went from feeling uncertain and overwhelmed to being proactive and engaged.

I've developed the skills and confidence I need to secure sustainable employment in retail.

My journey shows how personalised, one-to-one support can make a real difference for anyone returning to work after long-term unemployment.

Welfare Support

At the beginning of the year, I approached Simon for assistance with a review of my Attendance Allowance.

I had been receiving the lower rate for several years, but due to the increasing level of support I required during the night, I believed I was eligible for the higher rate.

Simon agreed with my assessment and promptly completed the review form on my behalf.

A few weeks later, I was delighted to learn that I had been awarded the higher rate.

I was extremely grateful to Simon for his guidance and expertise. Later in September, I received a review form for my Attendance Allowance claim as a whole.

This caused me considerable anxiety, as I feared losing the higher rate or even the allowance entirely.

Once again, I booked an appointment with Simon, who helped me complete the review form. Within weeks, I received confirmation that my Attendance Allowance had been renewed. The relief I felt was immense.

I cannot overstate how grateful I am for Simon's support not once, but twice this year. His knowledge and assistance have made a significant difference to my life.

I truly appreciate all the help provided by Simon and the team at SWEDA.

“I am extremely grateful for all the support throughout this process.”

-Rosemary Smith

Welfare Support

I am 74 years old and live alone. I currently receive both the State Pension and Pension Credit.

I have been diagnosed as morbidly obese, which significantly affects my mobility

I rely on walking sticks—and I also experience ongoing breathing difficulties.

Due to these health conditions, I require daily care and support, which is provided by my brother.

Recently, my brother met with Simon at SWEDA to discuss his own benefit-related concerns.

During their conversation, he mentioned that he provides daily assistance to me.

Simon advised that I may be eligible to apply for Attendance Allowance, a benefit available to individuals of State Pension age who require help due to a long-term physical or mental health condition. Given my circumstances needing support with personal care and regular checks to ensure my wellbeing Simon believed I met the criteria.

Simon also explained that if I were awarded Attendance Allowance, my brother might be entitled to a Carer's Premium, which could increase his Pension Credit entitlement.

With my brother's permission, Simon contacted me directly to explain the process, and I agreed to have an Attendance Allowance application form sent to me.

As I am housebound, Simon offered to assist with completing the form over the phone. He explained that he uses a template to record responses, which he can later transfer into the official form. Certain sections of the form require my signature, which I was happy to provide.

Once the form arrived, Simon scheduled a three-hour telephone appointment to ensure it was completed thoroughly. After the call, I signed the necessary sections, and my brother met with Simon to hand over the original form. Simon then submitted the completed application on my behalf.

I am extremely grateful for Simon's support throughout this process. I am currently awaiting a decision on my application and will inform Simon once I receive an outcome.

“I’m excited about what’s next and grateful for the continued support.”

Employment

Before joining SWEDA’s Work Well project, I had experienced a prolonged period of unemployment and faced significant mental health challenges that affected my confidence and ability to move forward professionally. During that time, I felt unsure of my direction and uncertain about how to re-enter the workplace.

However, even while rebuilding my wellbeing, I remained committed to staying involved in my children’s school wherever I could. Through ad-hoc volunteering, I discovered how much I enjoyed supporting children and contributing to a school community—an experience that helped me identify the type of career I genuinely wanted to build.

Following a referral from my children’s school, I began working with SWEDA, where I received practical guidance and encouragement to take positive, structured steps toward employment.

With their support, I was able to reflect on my strengths, identify my interests, and recognise that working in an educational setting is not only meaningful to me, but also aligns strongly with my skills and values. SWEDA helped me rebuild self-belief and develop a clear pathway forward, turning what once felt overwhelming into achievable, manageable steps.

As part of my progression, SWEDA referred me to Topps Training, where I successfully completed several key qualifications, including

- Food Hygiene Level 2
- Safeguarding Adults & Children Level 2
- Mental Health Awareness.

These were my first formal qualifications in more than ten years and marked a major milestone in my personal and professional development.

Gaining these certifications strengthened my understanding of responsibilities within a school environment and significantly boosted my confidence, motivation, and readiness to take on work.

In addition, SWEDA supported me in updating and strengthening my CV to reflect my new skills, training achievements, and practical experience.

With growing confidence and clearer goals, I began actively exploring suitable roles in education. When I became aware of a Lunchtime Supervisor vacancy at the school where I volunteer, SWEDA helped me take immediate action—supporting me to locate the role online, request the application pack professionally via email, and plan for completing a strong application through follow-up guidance.

Today, I feel focused, optimistic, and empowered. I am actively applying for roles that align with my passion for working with children and fit around my family commitments.

I have moved from feeling stuck and uncertain to taking meaningful steps toward sustainable employment in a field I genuinely care about.

I am proud of the progress I have made so far, and I am committed to continuing my development within a school environment.

SWEDA's encouragement and practical support have played a crucial role in helping me believe in my potential again—and I am now building momentum toward a rewarding career.

Welfare Support

I am 51 years old and currently reside in Cradley Heath, Sandwell. I recently relocated from London following the successful outcome of my asylum application.

As English is not my first language, I attended the Cost-of-Living Drop-In session at Cradley Heath Community Links Food Bank in order to access support with contacting South Staffs Water.

My primary purpose was to arrange payment of my household water bill via monthly direct debit for the privately rented property where my family and I currently live.

During the session, I met with Simon, who provided assistance and guidance. He advised me about South Staffs Water's Assure Scheme, which offers a tiered discount for eligible customers on low income or in receipt of benefits.

He explained that the scheme provides a 60% discount in the first year, 40% in the second year, and 20% in the third year.

Simon contacted South Staffs Water on my behalf to initiate an application for the scheme, and I was advised that a revised bill would be issued and sent to me.

Simon also informed me that he attends the drop-in session every Thursday between 11:00am and 3:00pm. He encouraged me to return once I had received the revised bill so that he could support me to set up the monthly direct debit arrangement.

Several weeks later, I returned to the drop-in session to complete the direct debit set-up. While Simon was speaking with South Staffs Water by telephone, I began to feel unwell.

I have a medical history of heart attacks and experience ongoing chest and breathing difficulties. In response, Simon immediately ended the call and, with support from volunteers, ensured that I was safe and that emergency services were contacted without delay.

The ambulance service provided advice by telephone and, fortunately, I did not require hospital admission.

Due to the prompt and supportive response from Simon and the volunteers, I was able to return home safely.

Simon advised me to return the following week to complete the original task.

On the next Thursday, I returned to the drop-in session and Simon successfully arranged the water bill direct debit.

In addition, Simon completed a full benefits check to ensure that I was receiving all appropriate support and entitlements.

He also provided information about LEAP, a service offering free energy efficiency advice and support to identify the most cost-effective energy tariffs.

Furthermore, he advised that I may be eligible for a Discretionary Housing Payment, as my Universal Credit award does not fully cover the cost of my rent.

I am very grateful for the support provided by Simon and the Community Links volunteers.

Their assistance has made a meaningful and positive impact on my wellbeing and financial stability during a particularly challenging period.

DIGITAL SKILLS

“My Gratitude to you and your staff in providing an uplifting
experience.
Thank you so much!”

Digital Skills Support

I had been on Universal Credit for a long time and felt stuck. One of my biggest challenges was IT.

I simply didn't have the skills to apply for jobs online or create the materials I wanted for my volunteer work at church.

My forklift truck licence had expired, and without digital skills, I couldn't move forward.

Life felt frustrating because I wanted to contribute more but didn't know where to start.

From the very first meeting, SWEDA made me feel supported. They assessed my skills and identified gaps that needed filling.

They didn't just teach me they encouraged me and helped me believe I could do this. I enrolled in the King's Trust EDCC Word Level 1 & 2 courses, where I learned practical tasks that I can now use every day.

David has completed the Kings Trust EDCC Word level 1, 2 and 3 Advanced where he demonstrated the following tasks

- Create a long document
- Format Text into columns
- Use headings
- Use bullets and numbering
- Insert Headers, footers and page numbering
- Use footnotes
- Insert pictures with caption
- Insert table of contents
- Use page setup functions
- use various print commands

The difference is incredible. My confidence around computers has grown massively.

I can now create newsletters and flyers for my church group, and I feel ready to take on new opportunities. SWEDA's attitude of "nothing is too much trouble" made the whole experience uplifting and positive.

To Craig and the team at SWEDA thank you for providing such an uplifting experience.

You've given me the tools and confidence to move forward, and I'm truly grateful.

I used to feel completely lost when it came to technology. Even the simplest tasks felt impossible because I couldn't use a computer at all.

Applying for jobs seemed out of reach, and that left me feeling frustrated and overwhelmed. I knew I needed help—but I had no idea where to begin.

Finding SWEDA changed everything. From the moment I walked in, I felt supported.

They offered practical IT training in a friendly, encouraging environment, and that gave me hope.

The team started by assessing my skills, which helped me see where I was starting from. Then, step by step, they guided me through programs like Learn My Way.

Completing that was a huge confidence boost, and I even went on to tackle Cyber Security modules, learning how to create strong passwords and protect myself online.

My biggest breakthrough came when I progressed to Microsoft Word Level 1 and 2.

That was a milestone I never thought I'd reach. Today, I feel comfortable using a computer and my confidence has grown beyond what I imagined. I'm no longer afraid of technology. I can apply for jobs, handle office tasks, and face real-world challenges with ease.

This journey has opened doors I never thought possible. SWEDA didn't just teach me skills they gave me the confidence to believe in myself and my future.

SWEDA is a lovely place to come. Craig (IT) is a lovely person to get on with. The support I received was life-changing.

My advice to anyone in the world would be If you're struggling like I was, take that first step, you'll be amazed at what you can achieve.

“The support I received was life-changing.”

“SWEDA is a lovely place to come”

Business - Evening Networking Event

The re-established Evening Business Networking Event our first since COVID restrictions were lifted brought together individuals at different stages of business development, all focused on building connections and strengthening their referral networks.

To support strong attendance, we promoted the event across social media and through our networks, and provided refreshments for those arriving directly from work.

Two SWEDA clients delivered short presentations, giving them a platform to showcase their services while offering valuable insight to other attendees. This helped pre-start entrepreneurs envision future milestones and reassured established business owners that their challenges are shared.

The event was very well received, with meaningful connections formed and networking continuing informally after the close. Attendees expressed strong enthusiasm for the next event in February 2026.

By facilitating new relationships and potential collaborations, the event enhanced the visibility of participating businesses and created opportunities for future growth. It successfully brought together individuals who may not otherwise have had the opportunity to connect, supporting the development of new professional partnerships.

Client Journeys: Real Stories, Real Impact

A central feature of the event was the presentation of client journeys, where several individuals supported by SWEDA shared their personal experiences of developing businesses and social enterprises.

These stories showcased:

- The transformative power of tailored support, from early-stage business planning to ongoing mentoring.
- The barriers local people face, including access to finance, digital skills, or confidence-building and how SWEDA's programmes help overcome them.
- The broader community impact of empowering individuals to turn ideas into purposeful organisations that address local needs.

These authentic narratives resonated deeply with delegates, reinforcing the value of investment in social-economy infrastructure.

Attendees Included:

Manoj Lal – Enforcement Officer, Home Office

Ritu Sharma – Founder, Kushalya UK; Women in Power Ambassador

Sunil Kumar Mahay – Immigration Solicitor, Vasu Legal

Satnam Chumber - Chartered Accountant

Mathew Innis- Chair Director, Davinder Kaur CEO and the SWEDA Team

Laura Tatton on "An Introduction to AI"

The keynote speaker, Laura Tatton, delivered an engaging introduction to Artificial Intelligence and its relevance to social enterprises, small businesses and community-led organisations.

Her session offered practical insights into:

- How AI tools can increase productivity for small teams
- Opportunities for social enterprises to leverage AI for social impact.
- The importance of ethical, responsible and inclusive use of emerging technologies.

Delegates responded enthusiastically, many commenting that the talk helped demystify AI and inspired them to explore new possibilities within their own organisations.

A Collaborative Step Forward The Social Economy Drive event demonstrated SWEDA's role as a convenor and catalyst within the region.

By bringing together stakeholders, sharing success stories, and introducing new thinking, the event strengthened collaborative networks and highlighted the growing momentum behind Sandwell's social economy.

The strong turnout and positive engagement show that there is significant appetite for continued learning, partnership and innovation.

SWEDA's work remains central to ensuring that individuals and community organisations have the skills, confidence and support they need to thrive.

Sandwell Means Business Event- Organised by the Black country Chamber of Commerce

Rob McDowell from the Black Country Chamber of Commerce delivered a highly engaging presentation at a Sandwell Means Business networking event hosted at the SWEDA offices.

Rob McDowell
Sales & Business Relationship Manager
Black Country Chamber of Commerce

The session opened with a comprehensive overview of the Chamber's activity over the past quarter, highlighting key achievements, advocacy work, and the tangible support provided to businesses across the region. Rob also shared insights into the Chamber's upcoming programme of events, outlining a range of opportunities designed to help local businesses connect, grow, and stay informed over the coming months.

A key focus of the presentation was the Quarterly Economic Survey, with Rob explaining its importance in capturing real-time business sentiment and influencing regional and national decision-making. Attendees were also given an update on the Chamber's dashboard, which sparked valuable discussion around economic trends, challenges, and opportunities facing businesses in Sandwell and the wider Black Country.

The event was well supported, attracting over 20 local businesses from a diverse range of sectors. The informal networking environment encouraged open conversation, with attendees actively sharing experiences, exchanging ideas, and exploring potential collaborations. Many businesses took the opportunity to make new connections, strengthen existing relationships, and discuss common challenges in a supportive setting.

Overall, the event demonstrated the value of partnership working between SWEDA, and the Black Country Chamber of Commerce.

The Men's ESOL Group: Building Skills and Breaking Barriers

The Men's ESOL group has been actively engaged in developing functional and conversational English skills, alongside practical cooking abilities.

In a community where culinary responsibilities are traditionally associated with women, this group has successfully challenged that norm. The participants embraced the opportunity to learn healthy cooking techniques and recipes with enthusiasm.

ESOL has played a pivotal role in their learning journey, creating an environment where the men have thrived and discovered the joy of education. For some, this experience marked the very first time they have put pen to paper, making it a significant milestone in their personal development.
